

Gender related questions:

1. Did you feel heard when you expressed your ideas?
2. Were your ideas implemented as a pair? Were they better implemented, or you were not happy with the implementation?
3. Do you think you collaborated well with your partner in the study?
4. What do you think if you were partnering with another friend, would you have performed better? Performed same?
5. Would you prefer partnering with a man or woman?
6. Do you think the current environment was enough for working on your programming task? Was it enough to form a partnership? What would you have liked?

What things they look the partner say or do that help in collaboration and communication and build trust

7. Was communicating easy with the partner? What things you felt were blockers? What facilitated communication? Did the camera and being able to see partner help?
8. You can trust partner better when?... (certain characteristics)
9. You can collaborate better when?....
10. You can communicate better with a partner who?...(certain characteristics)

Common questions:

- What do you think collaboration helped you with?
- Where do you think collaboration hindered your progress if you developed solo?
- Where you think it helped your progress?
- Do you feel like your partner interrupted you? Did it interrupt your workflow?
- Do you have experience with remote collaboration?
- Would you prefer remote pair programming or in-person?
- Would you prefer current environment for collaboration or could have preferred anything else? (if they say about any other tools they have used)
- Are people who have played video games more comfortable with remote pair programming than others?
- How did you decide when to switch Navigator/Driver roles?
- Did you as a pair think about who will be navigator or driver?
- In future, when doing pair programming, when do you want to be navigator?
- In future, when doing pair programming, when do you want to be driver?